Dear Charlie Strouse,

We knew we had to re-develop our current web site with an updated, user-friendlier design. Charlie approached us from AWP about putting our candy and chocolates online for secure ordering and we knew the potential was there to sell all across the nation. WOW! We launched the site in October and we instantly started receiving orders, many many orders. So many orders I had to call Charlie last week and ask him to temporarily turn off the online ordering as we couldn't keep up with the holiday orders that were coming in.

I want to thank Charlie and the staff of AWP for expediting all our requests, as I know the new web site will continue to prosper once we start accepting orders again after the New Year. Over 1700 visits to our web site in just two weeks in December are fantastic results. Happy Holidays from the Louis J. Rheb Company.
